Short Report

For the year ended 31 October 2016

Investment Fund Manager

James Briggs

Investment objective and policy

To provide income and growth by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of investment grade global corporate bonds. The fund may also invest in other transferable securities (including high yield bonds), government bonds, money market instruments, deposits, cash and near cash and collective investment schemes. Derivatives may be used by the fund for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Risk and reward profile

The fund currently has 1 type of share class in issue; Y gross accumulation.

The risk and reward profile is as follows:

The Synthetic Risk and Reward Indicator (SRRI) is calculated based on historical volatility over a rolling 5 year period, it is reviewed monthly and updated if volatility has changed materially to cause a movement in the SRRI level. The SRRI is an indicator and may not accurately reflect future volatility and market conditions.

The value of an investment in the fund can go up or down. When you sell your shares they may be worth less than you paid for them.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility. In the future, the fund's actual volatility could be higher or lower and its rated risk/reward level could change.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

The fund's risk level reflects the following:

- As a category shares are, in general, more volatile than either bonds or money market instruments.
- Fluctuations in exchange rates may cause the value of your investment to rise or fall.

The rating does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events. Under normal market conditions the following risks may apply:

Counterparty risk The fund could lose money if a counterparty with which it transacts becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.

Default risk The issuers of certain bonds could become unable to make payments on their bonds. The risk of default may be higher where the fund invests in sub-investment grade bonds.

Focus risk The fund's value may fall where it has concentrated exposure to an issuer or type of security that is heavily affected by an adverse event.

Geographic risk The fund's value may fall where it has concentrated exposure to a particular country or region that is heavily affected by an adverse event.

Liquidity risk Certain securities could become hard to value or sell at a desired time and price.

Management risk Investment management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental at other times.

Exchange rate risk Fluctuations in exchange rates may cause the value of year investment and income from it to rise or fall.

The full list of the fund's risks are contained in the "Risk Factors" section of the fund's prospectus.

There has been no change to the risk rating in the year.

The SRRI conforms to the ESMA guidelines for the calculation of the SRRI.

Investment review

The fund performed well over the review period, benefiting from both a tightening in credit spreads and a fall in government bond yields which was driven by additional monetary stimulus from the European Central Bank (ECB), Bank of England (BoE) and Bank of Japan (BoJ). Although the US Federal Reserve raised interest rates in December of last year for the first time since 2006 in an effort to normalise monetary policy, the impact on credit markets was more than offset by the announcement that both the BoE and the ECB would be extending their stimulus programmes to include the purchase of corporate bonds. The measures implemented by the BoE also comprised a 0.25% cut in the base rate, a new term funding scheme for banks and an expansion of the government asset-purchase scheme by £60bn. Although the UK's referendum to leave the European Union caused a bout of market volatility in the summer of 2016, the weakness was short-lived. Over the year, the outperforming sectors were utilities, financials and telecommunications, while lower rated investment grade bonds outperformed higher rated bonds.

Consumer non-cyclicals and communications were the strongest sector contributors to performance. Pharmaceutical companies GlaxoSmithKline and Pfizer were the largest contributors to performance within the former, along with Proctor & Gamble and Imperial Brands. Telecommunications providers AT&T, Verizon and Deutsche Telekom were the top contributors within the communications sector.

A position in Tesco performed well over the summer, benefiting from a stabilisation in the credit profile following recent management changes and the outperformance of lower rated, higher risk issuers more broadly. Our position in Wal-Mart also performed well along with holdings in utilities E.ON, EDF and National Grid. E.ON announced positive restructuring plans and benefited from inclusion in the Bank of England's Corporate Bond Purchase Scheme. EDF contributed significantly despite rating agency concerns around their nuclear investment programme in the UK.

Financials contributed strongly to performance during the review period. The largest contribution came via the banking sector, where positions in Morgan Stanley and Rabobank performed particularly well. Holdings in the insurance and real estate sectors also benefited performance, with the best returns coming from positions in US real estate investment trusts Digital Realty (technology real estate) and Welltower (healthcare). Our holding in German residential real estate issuer Aroundtown also performed well.

Other notable activity over the year included the closure of positions in Atrium, Origin Energy and Volkswagen alongside reductions in AT&T and Shell. Proceeds were recycled into new issuance from companies such as Johnson & Johnson, Exxon Mobil, Japan Tobacco and CVS Health, which allowed us to modestly improve the quality of the portfolio.
