Class Z$acc ISIN: IE00B613X770

Janus Henderson
INVESTORS

A sub fund of Janus Henderson Capital Funds plc

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund aims to provide an income while seeking to limit losses to capital over time.

The Fund focuses on investments in bonds of US issuers (companies domiciled or having operations in, or which derive a significant amount of their income or profits from the US). It may also invest in other debt securities (debt that is issued by a government or a company that can be bought and sold and which gives the right to receive income).

The Fund invests in short and medium-maturity (repayment period) debt securities.

The Fund mainly invests in bonds and other debt securities which are investment grade (high quality). The Fund may also invest up to 35% of its value in high-yield bonds and other debt securities. High-yield bonds are debt securities which are rated below investment-grade by ratings agencies because of a higher risk of not being paid back, or if unrated, are of similar quality. High-yield bonds typically offer a higher income.

The Fund may also invest up to 25% of its value in non-US issuers, which may also be high yield.

The Fund may use financial derivatives (complex financial instruments) with the aim of risk or cost reduction within the portfolio. To a lesser extent, derivatives may also be used to generate additional returns or income for the Fund.

The Fund may invest in other types of eligible investments which are disclosed in the Prospectus.

You may sell your shares generally daily (i.e. on a business day for the Fund).

This share class does not pay you an income but instead reinvests it to grow your capital.

Risk and Reward Profile

The category is calculated based on historical data and is based on price movements in the share class (volatility), and may not be a reliable indicator of future risk. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category does not mean the investment is risk-free.

This share class is in category 2 because of rises and falls in its value in the past. Investments in debt securities tend to fluctuate less than similar investments in equity securities.

The risk category does not take into account the following risks of investing in this share class:

Component Fund: This fund is designed to be used only as one component of several in a diversified investment portfolio. Investors should consider carefully the proportion of their portfolio invested into this fund.

Investment Risk: The value of an investment and any income from it can go up or down, and the Fund may not achieve its investment objective. When you sell your shares they may be worth less than you paid for them.

Default Risk: An issuer of a bond (or money market instrument) may become unable or unwilling to pay interest or repay capital to the Fund. If this happens or the market perceives this may happen, the value of the bond will fall.

Interest Rates: When interest rates rise (or fall), the prices of different securities will be affected differently. In particular, bond values generally fall when interest rates rise. This risk is generally greater the longer the maturity of a bond investment.

High Yield Bonds: The Fund invests in high yield (non-investment grade) bonds and while these generally offer higher rates of interest than investment grade bonds, they are more speculative and more sensitive to adverse changes in market conditions.

Prepayment and Extension: Callable debt securities (securities whose issuers have the right to pay off the security's principal before the maturity date), such as ABS or MBS, can be impacted from prepayment or extension of maturity. The value of your investment may fall as a result.

Country or Region: If a Fund has a high exposure to a particular country or geographical region it carries a higher level of risk than a Fund which is more broadly diversified.

Derivatives: The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.

Liquidity: Securities within the Fund could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price, especially in extreme market conditions when asset prices may be falling, increasing the risk of investment losses.

Charges to Capital: Some or all of the Annual Management Charge and other costs of the Fund may be taken from capital, which may erode capital or reduce potential for capital growth.

For a more detailed explanation of risks, please refer to the "Risk Factors and Special Considerations" section of the Prospectus.
